

Get $500-$1,000/Mo From New Government Mortgage Relief Program!

Unique government program provides money directly to qualified homeowners to help meet mortgage payments.

What started as a Sub Prime mortgage problem has escalated to a banking and financial sector crisis. Although various bailouts have been suggested or even implemented, in the case of Bear Stearns; the underlying problem has not been adequately addressed.

There are millions of homeowners who cannot pay their mortgages, period. They will lose their homes to foreclosure, collapsing the entire banking and financial structures of this country, according to some experts.

Until this situation is addressed, all other remedies will fail.

Metropolitan Business Council, a personal financial consulting firm, has spliced together various government programs to produce a unique plan to grant relief to certain homeowners. If they qualify for this unique program, they will receive payments of $500-$1,000/mo directly from the government, essentially an Instant Pay Raise, to be used to help pay their mortgages.

You can pick up a Special Report that explains the program and how to qualify for it. It is available free, for a limited time at:
